

What We Do

Nothing beats the smile on a child's face when they have the opportunity to search through books and then finds the perfect one to take home.

Or the reaction of someone who is homebound receiving access to materials that allow them to connect.

Outside the Walls

Improving access to books and materials in the Newtown community not only provides an opportunity for kids to continue working on their reading during summer, extends the services of the library throughout the community and is a source of library access for many children, families, and patrons whose travel and mobility is limited

About Us

A primary mission of the C.H. Booth Library is to provide literacy and lifelong learning opportunities for community members of all ages.
